

Certified California Naturalist Training Program BSM National Monument Region Request for Scholarship

Tuleyome and the University of California Cooperative Extension want to enable all interested persons to participate in the Certified California Naturalist training program regardless of financial considerations. A limited number of need-based scholarships are available. Students who are granted a scholarship will still need to pay $50 to cover the fees required by the University of California, and buy their own textbook for use in the class but all other registration fees are waived. Applications for these scholarships must be received three months (90 days) prior to when the course starts.

Follow-up interviews may be required. We will also require proof of household income (a W2 form will suffice). All applicants will receive notification of their scholarship status prior to the first week of the course. Scholarship awardees will receive additional information on how to register at the reduced cost. Scholarship applicants who do not receive a scholarship will still be able to register at the normal registration cost.
